

Wear Your Badge Proudly...

...It's Who You Are

Badges may be small in size, but they play a big role in your company's presentation to the outside world.

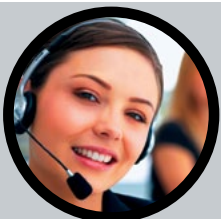

They often are the first form of introduction for your staff members to your most important audience - your customers.

Visually, badges may be seen more than any other form of advertising. Financially, they are your most cost-effective form of advertising - when they're done right.

Our identity badges say far more about your business than just a name. They are an extension of your brand, your image and even you! Any colour, any size, any shape and what's more there is usually no tooling or origination cost incurred, insuring you only pay for your badges.

What are you waiting for? Enhance your company profile today!
